SPECIAL TAX SESSION

Illinois is now to endure a special session of the general assembly for the purpose of devising ways and means for Cook county to make both ends meet in taxation and public expenditures.

Racketeer politicians produced chaos in Cook county and now all the down-state counties must be penalized by new methods of raising taxes, which will include a state income tax unless the courts and voters prevent.

After dodging taxes for several years and causing the other counties to produce money to run the state, Cook county now wants to fund its delinquent taxes over many years.

The state income tax proposition is well-known to be unconstitutional and can never be enforced unless the voters change their attitude and amend the constitution; however, probably the general assembly will pass such a measure for a legal football that will be kicked around the Cook county courts for many years while the rest of the state continues to make good what Cook county dodges.

The organized militant taxpayers in Lake county are on record against a state income tax in any form because it is just another tax. No provision to exempt real estate income or realty taxes will change the recorded attitude of people who have been once bit and are twice shy at all the Cook county schemes to shift tax burdens instead of stopping the increases in public expenditures.

The down-state counties will prove themselves to be "from Missouri" on all income tax propositions and Lake county's representatives are expected to vote against a state income tax in any and all forms; otherwise, they will never get another chance to vote on anything if the militant organized taxpayers repeat their successes of the past.

Something good may come out of the special session if it repeals the "bonhead" pauper legislation instead of trying again to amend the old statute which served the down-state needs. Cook county should have home rule in about everything and suffer the down-state counties to live happily and honestly and perhaps economically—a condition that seems impossible for the metropolitan melting pot of humanity.

SEEK TO ABOLISH OFFICE OF ASSESSOR

Another proposal to be considered at the session extraordinary is complete re-organization of the present tax assessing and collecting machinery. Certain politicians and large interests seek to abolish the office of assessor and elect a county assessor, township assessors, thus removing from the township board of assessors the right of home rule. The proposed measure was included in the governor's call at the annual convention of the state association of county officials which passed resolutions at the annual convention in August to have the matter brought before the general assembly. There is little doubt that the idea originated in Lake county, and that Lake county politicians and large interests are sponsoring it. Organized taxpayers believe that the proposed legislation is aimed specifically at Assessor Russ Alford of Waukegan township. This is not the first time the state has been asked to stifle by legislation those honest officials, who, through their efforts to serve the best interests of the people, have incurred the enmity of political bosses and money powers.

Republican and Democratic leaders are said to be opposed to the measure. It is not believed that the 2,000 Illinois assessors will sanction legislation that will deprive them of their jobs, nor is it presumed that taxpayers generally will welcome a centralized taxing system, which in this day of rampant graft and racketeering in all probability would be more susceptible to control by tampering politicians who seek favors for moneyed interests.

The activities and voting of senators and representatives upon this measure will be watched with closest scrutiny.

WORD OF ENCOURAGEMENT, LAST SERVICE

In paying a last tribute to the late Thomas A. Edison, nothing more impressive can be said than to repeat what was probably his last public statement, flashed by radio from his laboratory in Fort Myers, Fla., to the National Electric Light Association last summer, at Atlantic City. His words which follow show his interest in humanity which he had served so long and faithfully. In these difficult times they should be engraved on the consciousness of every American citizen.

"My message to you is to be courageous. I have lived a long time. I have seen history repeat itself again and again. I have seen many depressions in business. Always America has come out strong and more prosperous. Be as brave as your fathers were before you. Have faith—go forward."

TAX-REDUCTION—NOT TAX SHIFTING

We have heard a great deal of talk, from official sources, about "tax reduction." But in about ninety-nine instances out of a hundred, when any action at all has been taken, taxes have been shifted instead of being reduced, or new forms of taxation have been created.

As a consequence, high taxes have become one of the grueling issues of the time. The Philadelphia Record recently stated that the government of that city is without funds to meet its current obligations. Controller Hadley was quoted as saying that the city had borrowed $750,000 to meet October 1 payrolls and would have to borrow the same amount for October 15.

At about the same time, a campaign in the interest of municipal tax reduction was launched in Pittsburgh when the city's chamber of commerce and the Building Owners and Managers Association sent to the mayor and city council vigorous statements of opinion on that subject, expressing desire to co-operate toward "retrenchment without sacrifice of legitimate needs or interest."

Unless local expenses in all parts of the nation are drastically reduced, taxation will permanently imperil home building, business activity, industrial development. We should all follow the example of the Pittsburgh organizations and demand governmental economy—unless we are willing to pay the price of official waste and extravagance.

Think It Over

Taxpayers' Questions

What do taxpayers think about paying a higher salary to a superintendent of highways than to a judge?

When will a superintendent of highways volunteer to make restitution of $7,500 illegally received from taxpayers' funds?

Just which supervisors are going to defy the organized taxpayers who demand the return of $7,500 illegally disbursed by public officials to another public official?

Which supervisor will defy the taxpayers and vote against a resolution directing the state attorney to recover back into the public treasury $7,500 illegally disbursed to a superintendent of highways?

Who will tell the taxpayers what are the proper qualifications for a county auditor?

Should taxpayers be obliged to pay the salaries of a board of review after September 7th?

Will the teachers tell the taxpayers how they like to have their salaries discounted 2 per cent. to satisfy the hungry tax anticipation warrants racketeers who have nothing on a usurper?

Why is it that the taxpayers got such a kick out of the eagerness of public officials to get their mugs in the press, especially with some skirt?

If a candidate for county auditor drew $42.50 on warrant No. 7170 and $30 on warrant No. 5904 and $42.00 on warrant No. 4665 for garage rent for a city owned car for his own use, what should taxpayers expect in checking disbursements of county funds?

Will the late commissioner of finance and accounts tell the Waukegan taxpayers why the interest on bank balances for the year 1928 was $694.33 and in 1929 was $20,895?

What taxpayers will vote for any kind of bond issue good, bad or indifferent?

What sane voter will burden taxpayers with more taxes for bonds to square up accounts of city officials who buy lake shore drives for roadways, for manufacturing plants, or to pull the county officials out of a financial mess in which supervisors and a superintendent of highways are paid illegally?

When the experts are telling taxpayers that by 1953 there will be one person eating out of the public crib for each person doing the crib, who wants to work more than one day per week for the tax collector?

Do not taxpayers prefer law enforcement to more bond issues to make good the defects of politicians who try to befuddle the public?

When will the city close out the city hall and avoid $10,000 mistakes?

How do taxpayers view the candidates for the public payrolls when they switch from one party to the other?

What taxpayer can guess just what the political plum a certain "civic leader" and jurymen want, or must the public wait until the master's voice is heard?

A taxpayer wants to know why the Waukegan commissioners vacated the Eighth street crossing and why so much limidity about regulating the speed of electric trains within a city?

Why were $14,000 of taxpayers' funds spent on the lake shore drive if it is owned by private interests?

If organized militant taxpayers defeated at the ballot box twice a lake shore drive, what editor dreams he can catch anybody mapping to put across a deal for interests that were identified with the financing of an industry on this highway, and also with a newspaper that, of course, does not need support from taxpayers?

If the civic leaders are sincere in appeals to aid the unlucky, why not join in a drive on 15-cent milk, 7-cent carfare, 6-cent electric current, 11.35 gas, and two-bit fuel rackets?

If an editor has a Sunday conference with an indicted state official, is it any wonder that there is appointed for a busted bank an attorney who was identified with another bank of unhappy memory for many innocent stockholders?

Do taxpayers want the names of many prominent civic leaders who try to help a rubber check politician evade trial?

How many taxpayers agree with the notion that the head of a grade school can hire and fire at will?

Waukegan Audit Bares Laxity In Bookkeeping

LAW DISREGARDED, YOUNG REVEALS IN 4-YEAR REPORT

Blanket Approval of Petty Cash Disbursements Is Assailed

COMPLETE AUDIT TO BE PUBLISHED IN THE NEWS

Much like the Canadian police enjoy a reputation over the globe for always getting their man, the militant organized taxpayers in Waukegan in the long run accomplish what they set out after—city commissions, football bond issues, and delayed real audits. However, it took several years to capture a real audit which has just been reported by Arthur Young and Company for the 4-year period of the late city commission that the organized taxpayers threw out of existence.

To reach their ultimate purposes, Republic taxpayers in a Republican stronghold found it necessary to elect a Democratic mayor, Peter W. Peterson, who promised a real audit and it has been obtained regardless of numerous obstacles and at a cost exceeding $5,000.

While the Democratic mayor has made good his promise, the result appears bad for taxpayers, unless the Republican aldermen cause the corporation counsel of Waukegan to make like others than taxpayers to make good the debts, defaults and miscarriages outlined in the Young audit.

There has been much mystery about letting the public have the long delayed audit report and there is talk that it cannot be published in detail because the city has not the money to pay for it.

An examination of the Young audit indicates that a bitter financial pill for taxpayers has not been sugar coated.

The report consists of some thirty-five pages of a summary and numerous long detailed tabulations of accounts and expenditures, and it would be difficult to condense much of the document so that the critical plight of the city of Waukegan finances could be fairly grasped by the interested taxpayers who face many serious matters and possibly the consideration of a big bond issue to clean the slate.

Inasmuch as there appears to be some disposition to avoid giving the public the unpleasant and perhaps for many, unprofitable facts, the taxpayers' special organ, the Lake County Taxpayers News will publish the Young summary in serial articles which will appear weekly until the thirty-five pages are published in detail for such uses as may please the taxpayers generally.

(It is suggested that readers save each installment. Within a few weeks they will have a complete copy of the audit.)

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council City of Waukegan, Illinois, Dear Sirs:

In accordance with your instructions we have audited the accounts and books of the City of Waukegan, Illinois, for the four years ended April 30, 1931, and now submit our report thereon together with the statements enumerated in the preceding index.

Our examination was confined to the Why Cities Go Broke!

"A city government completely insulized as to gas, electric light and transportation is a bankrupt city," says Newton Jenkins in the current Illinois Progressive Republican.

Lake county's county seal—Waukegan—according to the claims of its organized taxpayers is just about flat broke and its public utilities are credited mostly to the insul interests; however, before nobody has asserted any relation between the results and a cause; consequently, perhaps the busybodies will concentrate on the subject.

Expenses Reach Dizzy Heights.

The late commission in Waukegan asked much but really did nothing about gas rates; however, the new aldermanic council is now featuring the electric current bills which have reached dizzy heights of past due accounts. Some regard insul as a Santa Claus because light and power are furnished against little, if any, payments, and so why worry, appears to be the general attitude of the easy-going taxpayers. However, numerous militant taxpayers have been urging lower rates for gas, electric current and street car fares, especially during hard times, when every penny counts so much.

Apparently, the politicians' attitude is that they would rather owe insul forever than cheat him out of anything.

Bills Exceed $50,000.

"Whereas Moses when the lights went out" may become a modern question if the utility people cut off the city's street lights on the same principle that the city cuts off the private water supply of delinquent water consumers of the small home owning type.

There are usually two sides to most questions and this one of ancient, if not heritable, municipal electric current past due bills, exceeding $50,000 may yet have its light and dark sides unless the voting public forgives or forgets the late commissioners, and pays up for a dead horse at the ballot box by voting for bonds to make good the spendthrift record of the politicians whom the public threw out of power but apparently too late to escape their deficits of hundreds of thousands of dollars, which constitute a record that two of them want to use to stand upon when running for any office that will pay their bed and board from the public till forever and a day.

records of the General and Special Funds under the direct jurisdiction of the Mayor and the City Council and did not include Water Works, Plant No. 2, operated by a Board of Trustees, School Funds, Park Funds nor the certain trust funds commented on later on in this report.

The report on our examination of the accounts and books of the Special Assessment Funds is submitted under separate cover. The Balance Sheet of these funds at April 30, 1931 is submitted herewith in Exhibit "C".

During the period under review the City operated under the Commission Form of Municipal Government.

Generally speaking the accounts and records of the City for the period under review were kept in an unsatisfactory manner particularly the records for the two years ended April 30, 1929. Supporting details of cash receipts and disbursements were incomplete and in many instances were found to be missing. In numerous cases, contracts, agreements and other authorizations of the City Council could not be located by ourselves or the City Clerk.

Due to missing and incomplete records (Continued on page five)

Little Items For Taxpayers

Funds donated for the unemployed in Waukegan may be used by the city for the improvement of streets and other city property and thus the taxpayers may also get some relief.

County Treasurer Morse has started litigation against the New York Indemnity Company to recover $200,000 on account of a deposit of $367,000 in the closed Waukegan State bank. There is also a suit in the federal court at Chicago over the same matters. The taxpayers are protected by a $500,000 surety bond given by the county treasurer to the county and Mr. Morse is protected by the $200,000 depository bond.

In the litigation over the $223,000 deposit of the city of Waukegan in the closed Waukegan State bank, the receiver for that bank has filed a demurrer because no money has been posted in court. The city holds a $200,000 depository bond issued by the National Surety company which in turn holds $50,000 Liberty bonds of the bank and also $150,000 Waukegan tax warrants which the city seeks to have litigated as to ownership because the receiver and surety company each claim the $150,000 tax warrants.

At a meeting at the court house, the Waukegan State Bank Depositors' association adopted a resolution asking State Auditor Nelson to resign or let the association's executive committee give instructions as to what should be done in handling the bank's assets.

The organized militant taxpayers' executives are closely watching the closed banks' affairs because there is over $700,000 of tax money in these closed banks.

The county superintendent of highways is said to be ready to resign if the organized taxpayers insist upon the return of $7,500 excess money paid him and the indications that such a resignation will result because of the determination of the militant taxpayers to force the return of all illegal money paid to public officials under different excuses.

The advocates for the Lake Shore Drive at Waukegan are still urging the city council to do something about it regardless of the fact that the voters twice rejected it at the ballot box. Some are hoping that the council will get the option extended only to the lands from the E. J. E. railway company. The militant taxpayers are sharpening their axes.

The Waukegan audit of the general funds has been completed some time, but it has been withheld from publication pending consideration of the same by some of the officials. Rumor has it that many serious statements are reported by the public accountants who were employed upon the demands of the organized militant taxpayers.

The publication of even an outline of the auditors' report on the Waukegan special assessment accounts during the last four years has created a sensation which the local press failed to discount.

Many property owners want details in different districts in Waukegan.

The mayor of Waukegan insists that the past due bills of the late commission can be ultimately paid without a bond issue provided Mr. Peterson and his aldermen can save sufficient funds to pay for many dead horses, how over in the meantime the electric light and power people are whistling a sad tune over many thousands of unpaid bills of the late commission, which is said to have felt it preferable to owe the insul interests for ever rather than cheat them out of anything.

Reports are current that the increased valuations placed upon property of the public utility interests by the Waukegan assessors are to be reduced by the board of review whose report is being eagerly watched for by the small property owners who got a little relief when the assessor increased the valuations on some of the industrial properties in Waukegan township. However, the dreams of the small property owners may not come very true if the industrial valuations are to be lowered without further reducing the valuations on small homes and farms.

MORE TAXPAYERS TO ORGANIZE IN LAKE COUNTY

Central Lake County Group Will Meet in Grayslake Saturday Evening

A meeting for the purpose of organizing a Central Lake County Taxpayers' Association will be held in the Grayslake Community House Saturday evening, November 7, according to an announcement received yesterday by taxpayers throughout the county.

A united effort to secure more equitable taxation, and elimination of graft and waste of public funds are stated as the purposes of the organization. Activities as outlined by the state association will probably be followed by the new Lake county group.

A speaker from the Illinois Agricultural Association will discuss the income tax bill that is to be offered at the special session of the legislature, and other problems of the taxpayer.

Cities Irregularities.

"Would it not be wise," a committee member asks, "to have a court case upon a tax levy before it is spread? Why should we as individuals continue to pay illegal taxes which corporations do not pay? Do the taxpayers in one school district in Lake county know that they are paying a rate of $3.31, whereas the legal limit in Illinois is $2.00? Do taxpayers realize that with $10,000 assessed valuation this rate means an illegal tax of $131? Should the taxpayers of Lake county pay a salary of $7,000 when capable men within our own county could be hired for half this sum?"

Lack of interest on the part of the taxpayer is largely responsible for the graft, extravagance, illegal taxes and misappropriation of funds, according to the taxpayers who are appealing to all honest citizens to become members of the association and help to put a stop to the deplorable conditions as they exist in Lake county.

WHAT TAXPAYERS WANT

Taxpayers want and demand lower taxes.

Taxpayers want persons in public office to enforce the statutes.

Taxpayers want no more bond issue elections.

Taxpayers want no more control of county affairs by a ring.

Taxpayers want no more monopoly of high-priced public printing.

Taxpayers want no more dictation from outside editorial writers.

Taxpayers want no hand-picked jurists.

Taxpayers want no more politics in state banking affairs.

Taxpayers want no more humbug in public places.

3 Tammany Men Bank Million in 6 Years; Quizzed

New York.—Three Democratic district leaders deposited more than $1,000,000 in their personal bank accounts since 1925.

Council Samuel Seabury reached that total recently in a public hearing before the 110th annual legislative committee when he showed that Register James A. McQuade of Kings county, leader of the Fifth Assembly District Democratic club there, deposited $810,000 between 1925 and the present. His salary in all that time was just $47,000. McQuade explained the $463,000 additional deposits by saying that he borrowed every cent of it and had paid every cent of it back.

Earlier in the day Mr. Seabury had shown that City Clerk Michael J. Cruise, Tammany leader of the 12th assembly district in Manhattan, had deposited $143,000 in the same 6-year period. His salary was $63,000 and the additional deposits, $80,000. He attempted vaguely to explain $20,000 of that sum, and left $60,000 which he could not explain.

Sheriff Thomas M. Farley (Timbox Tom) as he was called around the Hoteladler headquarters after his explanation of extracting almost unlimited sums of cash from two "box boxes" at home and in a bank, admitted deposits of $363,000 in the last six years, his salary had been $43,000.

The sheriff was characterized by Samuel Seabury, counsel to the committee, in so many words as a "gratifier." Mr. Seabury used the term without any sort of qualification or apology.

Reports that certain officials in Lake county are making their offices "pay" exceedingly well are being investigated.

Is the President of the United States elected to protect American taxpayers' interests or a few Wall street financiers and whiling aliens?

Do not taxpayers want to know the real reasons in the delay in publishing a municipal audit which the grapevine reports as just too bad for those who blindly supported the late commission form of government?

What taxpayer wants Uncle Sam to longer mess in foreign finances, especially of the French variety?

When will taxpayers learn that back taxes are being collected on the basis of commission pride and fame?

What taxpayer can report progress on collecting into the public treasury the money illegally disbursed to a supervisor who inspected the court house addition?

Is it not disgusting to honest taxpayers to note how a certain political ring will oppose bustled bank depositors who try to get the right things done, but what will the harvest be when the organized militant taxpayers start to protect their $700,000 in one busted bank?

Why do some taxpayers talk that a necktie party would beat the devil in cleaning up many civic wrongs being done the public by crooked politicians?

If "colored" cases of blackmail, extortion, check-writing and bond jumping occupy so much space in the press that a municipal audit cannot reach the taxpayers' eyes, why not pay good coin for the taxpayers' own specialist news?

Why is it that so many taxpayers wonder why so many public officials and tax consumers have been and are connected with banks, both open and closed?

Are not taxpayers justly amused when some people display dismay when they read what happened to the racketeers of the Capone type?

Does any honest taxpayer really care if anybody resigns from public office in which $2,500 velvet has been self-appropriated?

Is the taxpayers' tongue being whitewashed when there is an evening ses-

"Everlasting Punishment" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 1.
The Golden Text was "The hope of the righteous shall be gladness; but the expectation of the wicked shall perish." (Proverbs 10:28).
Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him. Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him." (James 1:5, 12).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The way through which immortality and life are learned is not ecclesiastical but Christian, not human but divine, not physical but metaphysical, not material but scientifically spiritual." (p. 28).

What will be the reaction of tax-paying voters on supervisors who repeatedly and continually pay money illegally for salaries and supplies?

If an official who has been illegally taking $2,500 yearly from the public till wants to resign in December, why step him now?

Is there any taxpayer's child who does not know that there are 2,000 pounds in a ton?

Is there any taxpayer who cannot stand an eye-full of red-hot news from a municipal audit? If so, put on blinders when reading the Lake County Taxpayers News, because "truth crushed to earth" shall arise.

cords, as well as to the restricted time allotted us, our audit was necessarily limited.

We did not verify all the receipts for the period but had to confine ourselves to making test checks of the revenue pertaining to the various funds. The result of our check of the cash disbursements was extremely unsatisfactory because of missing and incomplete supporting details and numerous errors in distributions, both as to funds and as to subsidiary accounts under the funds.

In preparing the statements submitted in this report we did not, with the exception of certain outstanding items, attempt to correct all the errors of distribution noted in our examination. To correct all such errors would have necessitated our reclassifying all expenditures made during the period. We felt that such a reclassification, if not impossible, due to incomplete and missing supporting details, could only be done at a cost which would be prohibitive.

The procedure followed by the Council during the period under review in authorizing the disbursement of funds was inadequate and poorly controlled. For example, the permanent official Council proceedings on file in the office of the City Clerk did not include a detailed list of the bills approved for payment, the bills being simply approved as read. Lists of bills read and printed bulletins of the Council proceedings, we were advised, were not kept permanently in the office of the City Clerk but retained on file for a limited time only. We noted that such lists as were on file had not been signed.

Petty cash disbursements were not included on these lists, but usually a resolution was passed providing that "the bills for Petty Cash Items be allowed". This blanket form of approval afforded great latitude and we desire to call attention to the fact that there were an unusual number of petty cash disbursements during the period under review.

Official Council proceedings were not signed by the City Clerk but his name was affixed by typewriter. We also found in the records reference to meetings of which no proceedings were on file.

In examining the supporting evidence of disbursements we found that in numerous instances the voucher supporting the warrants issued bore no approval of the Commissioner of Accounts and Finance or Assistant Clerk as provided for on the form, nor was there any indication on many vouchers as to the subsidiary fund account to which the items were to be charged. In most instances the distribution was indicated by the account number only.

A rubber stamp providing for the following data was used on many loggers and racketeers to cash in nightly?

Why should the coat and pants do all the work and the vest get all the glory in publishing municipal notices at 9 cents per line when other unfavored publications might cut the racketeering rates if the monopoly were suspended even long enough to publish a municipal big audit report that is certainly worthy of reading by each taxpayer?

Many petty cash tickets, including a considerable number of travelling expense advances in round sums, were not approved. We found few returns of unused cash from those travelling advances. Considerable postage was paid through petty cash with no detail or receipt of the postmaster.

In appendices I and II we submit statements of some of the disbursements noted by us which may or may not have been authorized or on which no invoices explanations or supporting papers were in evidence.

The warrants covering disbursements from the General Funds require the signature of certain City Officials in addition to that of the City Treasurer. This procedure, in theory, is a restriction placed on the Treasurer to prevent him from having sole access to the cash funds. As a practical matter, however, the Treasurer has had sole access to all City funds for the reason that only his signature is required on checks issued on the Special Assessment Funds which, instead of being kept in separate bank accounts as is required by state law, has been mingled with the cash belonging to the General Funds.

The checks issued on the Special Assessment Funds have been journaled on the general books monthly but no details are shown on the journal entries. The available check book stubs do not, in many instances, indicate any details of the disbursements.

The following were the only cash records of the former Treasurers that the present Treasurer could find in his office:

Monthly summaries of cash receipts and disbursements for the four years ended April 30, 1931.

Waukegan National Bank - Check stubs from August 15, 1930 to May 22, 1931 - Checks 1 to 57, inclusive.
First National Bank - Check stubs from August 15, 1930 to May 13, 1931 - Checks No. 1 to 71, inclusive.
Waukegan State Bank - Check stubs from September 13, 1929 to January 13, 1930 not numbered and checks from January 14, 1930 to June 18, 1931 - Checks No. 1 to 359.

Bank statements together with cancelled checks from January, 1930, to April 1931, inclusive.

We recommend that steps be taken as soon as possible to install proper cash receipts and disbursement records which should be of a permanent nature. Sufficient columns should be provided for distributing collections and disbursements as well as for recording references to the details supporting same. All supporting details such as copies of receipt, warrants, vouchers, etc. should be indexed and retained in permanent files.

We also suggest that collections be deposited intact daily.

The City has a system of bookkeeping which, in our opinion, is inadequate.

quate in many respects. No subsidiary ledgers are kept for properly recording detailed expense accounts, although monthly cost sheets purport to show this information.
It has been the practice to include on the cost sheets the total monthly expenses approved by the Council and inasmuch as no expense controlling accounts, as such, are kept in the general ledger, it is necessary to reconcile the figures shown on the cost sheets with the disbursements recorded in the fund cash controls. In preparing such reconciliations consideration has to be given to the accounts payable at the beginning and end of the month as well as to any journal entries which may have been reflected on the cost sheets.

Our examination disclosed numerous errors in the cost sheets which for the most part were unreliable and of little value to us.
We strongly recommend that subsidiary expense ledgers be installed and that appropriate controlling accounts be provided in the general ledger.

SIX ROADHOUSES NEAR HERE CLOSED

Six of the nine roadhouses on Wisconsin route No. 83 extending for 2 miles north of the village limits of Antioch, which were involved in a series of raids made by federal agents, were ordered closed for one year in a hearing in the United States district court in Milwaukee Monday.

The roadhouses to be padlocked are Liberty Inn, Brass Ball Tavern, Old Farm Inn, Pasadena Gardens, Fairway Grill, and Maple Inn. The padlocking of three other places, the Dew Drop Inn, Slop Inn, and Bank's Place, will be determined at a future session of the court.

Several smaller and less ostentatious places on the "row" escaped the raids. These, from all indications, had fair to be the only survivors in the war of the prohibition enforcement department on this moist district.

Now GAS IS CHEAPER
and it's not too late to heat your home with this ideal fuel THIS WINTER

THERE is still time to have carefree gas heating service for your home this winter. And because a new gas has been brought into northern Illinois, it has been possible to reduce the cost of this most modern of fuels approximately 30%.

Let us figure your cost

To show you just what this reduction means to you, we will be glad to send one of our house heating engineers to call at your home. At once—and without obligating you in any way. He can prepare an estimate of just what it will cost to heat with gas under the new rates.

Remember in comparing gas with other fuels that it offers you completely carefree heating service. A temperature regulator in the living room takes full charge of the furnace—orders your fuel as you need it—keeps the whole house comfortably, healthfully warm.

Install gas heat now

Why not install gas heat now—for the coming winter. You can begin to enjoy its many advantages during changeable fall weather. When temperatures drop temporarily, your gas heater will start up automatically. As soon as the house is comfortable, off it goes again. Because the heater works automatically, you waste no fuel.

And, of course, you're through with shoveling coal, fussing with drafts, carrying out ashes forever.

In most cases your present heating plant can be "converted to gas" at small expense. A gas-burner can be installed in the fire-box whether your system is warm air, hot water or steam. The Public Service Company's testing laboratory has approved half a dozen of these conversion burners—will be glad to recommend one exactly suited to your home.

Mail the coupon

If you will mail us the coupon below, we'll send one of our house heating engineers to call on you. He will not only tell you all about the new gas heating rates and conversion burners—but also estimate just what gas heat will cost during an average heating season.

Is Your Home a Mere Mechanical House?

Lots of us know homes that are always in order—where no talltale spider webs link curtain rods and wall, where dust never hides in corners, where meals are served on the dot and where washings are on the line in the early morning. Perhaps we envy the housewives in those homes. But is our envy justified?

If a house is a mechanical place, it is for things and not for people—and who wants to feel like a fixture in a house?

Houses that have to be kept so neat that the children have to go outdoors to play, that Father has to tiptoe in and take off his shoes and that make guests feel that they should put down newspapers before entering, is not a real home. It has degenerated into a real house.

Is that the kind of home we want? We should look around us and decide whether our homes are really enjoyed by the children and whether guests love to drop in and see us in them. Our homes lack the right atmosphere if guests and the children's playmates do not feel at ease there.

A degree of system and efficiency in the home should not be frowned upon, however. A certain amount frees us from drudgery and gives us time for more real housekeeping. So many different tasks make up the homemaker's day that if she is working for an extra hour of leisure each day, she must find a way of cutting down on small tasks.

You have undoubtedly noticed that women do not apply mechanical devices in their work as men do. Sometimes this is due to economy, but more often, perhaps, to the undervaluation women give their strength and health. Check over the following list of time and labor savers to see what help they might furnish you with little or no cost:

1. Do you use a dish drainer to cut your dishwashing time in half? The drainer has been known to save two or three hours a week in a family of three.

2. Have you a kitchen stool or armless rocking chair in the kitchen so you may sit while working and rest while waiting?

3. Have you thrown out all useless articles such as broken dishes, old or empty medicine bottles, worn-out jar lids and rubbers, broken utensils and furniture, and worn rubber gloves? They take up space and make extra work in cleaning.

4. Have you a low shelf that makes it possible to keep articles off the floor? These articles may be such as pails, shoes, rubbers, boxes, etc., which must be taken away every time you sweep or mop. Shelves should not be lower than four feet nor higher than six feet from the floor if they are used every day.

5. Do you use a kitchen cart or tray or even a large dish pan to carry dishes from the dining room to the kitchen? A kitchen cart has saved one woman eighteen trips to her dining room.

SHAKESPEARE

THE STORM

Ferdinand, you remember, boys and girls, was a king's son and so piling up wood was a hard task for him. He had not been working long when the beautiful Miranda came along and, taking pity on him, said, "Alas! do not work so hard; pray rest yourself."
"Oh, my dear lady," said Ferdinand, "I dare not. I must finish my task before I take my rest."

"If you will sit down," said Miranda, "I will carry your load for you." But Ferdinand would not listen to this.
Just then Prospero, who had, in an invisible form, been listening to what Ferdinand and Miranda said, appeared before them and told Ferdinand he would let Miranda be his queen.

Prospero then left them and called his spirit Ariel, who quickly appeared before him, anxious to relate what he had done with Prospero's brother and the King of Naples. Ariel said he had left them almost out of their senses by the strange things he had through his magic made them see and hear. When fatigued from wandering about and famished for want of food he had set before them a big banquet and then just as they were about to eat he scared them half to death by appearing before them as a big monster and just then the table and all the good things to eat vanished.

Prospero's brother and the King of Naples were so ashamed of themselves that they had been so mean to Prospero that they told Ariel they were dreadfully sorry and wanted Prospero to forgive them.
(To be continued next week.)

Kindling for Fire

One housewife has discovered that potato peelings make good kindling. She spreads them out on a newspaper in the warming oven of the range and closes the door. They will dry out in 24 hours and make an excellent substitute for shavings when starting a fire.

Take Your Medicine At the Dinner Table

"Take your medicine at the dinner table and you won't need a doctor," is the sage advice of a home economist at one of our state universities. "Vegetables are good medicine, only they don't come in bottles." And they don't taste like medicine, either.

In many homes the children imagine they do not like vegetables often because of improper cooking and poor seasoning. With careful cooking, vegetables should retain most of their original flavor, color, texture, and food value.

A hot salad for fall meals is a new dish that all the family will enjoy. Instead of serving beats and cabbage day after day in the same old familiar ways, why not add interest and variety to the meal by a hot beat or cabbage salad made deliciously tart with sour cream? To make hot salad mix together one pint diced cooked beats, two tablespoons vinegar or lemon juice, one tablespoon sugar, salt, and paprika to taste. Heat thoroughly and just before serving add one-half cup sour cream.

To make hot cabbage salad slice one flat cabbage, cook it in rapidly boiling water until tender and drain it. Add two tablespoons vinegar, one tablespoon butter and salt and paprika to taste. Beat an egg yolk, mix it with one-half cup sour cream, add this to the cabbage and heat slowly, preferably over hot water. Serve at once. More vinegar may be used if a more tart flavor is desired. This salad is particularly good with boiled ham.

How to play Bridge AUCTION or CONTRACT

by Wynne Ferguson
Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

ARTICLE No. 26

Here is a most interesting hand that was recently played at a New York Club:

Hearts—A, K, 10	Clubs—K, 10, 4, 2	Diamonds—K, 10, 9, 5	Spades—A, 10
Hearts—J, 8, 4	Clubs—A, Q, J, 5, 3	Diamonds—7, 6, 3	Spades—Q, 8
Hearts—9, 7, 3	Clubs—7	Diamonds—8	Spades—K, J, 9, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3

AUCTION BIDDING:

No score, rubber game, Z dealt and passed. A passed and Y bid one no trump. B passed, Z bid three spades and all passed. If A led the ace of clubs and then played the ten of clubs, how should Z play the hand so that he can make small slam against any defense? This is a fine example of the "double squeeze," so try your skill before reading the solution that follows.

CONTRACT BIDDING:

Z pass; A pass; Y two no trumps; B pass; Z five spades; A pass; Y six spades and all pass. The play is the same both at Auction and Contract. Solution: Z should win trick No. 2 in Y's hand with the king of clubs and discard the ten of hearts from his own hand. Most players would discard a diamond at this point, but this discard will not enable Z to squeeze B's hand at the tenth trick. Z should now lead out his eight winning spades. A is thus forced to make six discards. He can discard three diamonds and two clubs, but is obliged to hold the top club or Y's ten of clubs will be good at trick No. 10; therefore, A is forced to discard the four of hearts.

Y is also forced to make six discards. He can throw off four diamonds and one club without any trouble. At trick No. 10, where—as we have seen—A is forced to discard a heart, Y can safely discard the ten of clubs.

B is forced to make seven discards. He can discard four diamonds, one club and one heart, but what can his seventh discard be? If he discards his last diamond, Z's eight of diamonds will be good. If he discards another heart, Y's three heart tricks will be good, so that in either case Y Z must win all of the tricks. The so-called "double squeeze" is a most unusual situation and the end play that resulted in this hand should be thoroughly understood.

The last four cards remaining in each player's hand were as follows:

Hearts—A, K, 10	Clubs—10	Diamonds—none	Spades—none
Hearts—J, 8, 4	Clubs—J	Diamonds—none	Spades—none
Hearts—9, 7, 3	Clubs—none	Diamonds—8	Spades—3

At the tenth trick, Z should lead his last spade. A cannot discard the jack of clubs or Y's ten will be good, so is forced to discard the four of hearts. This forced discard is called the "squeeze." Y now discards the ten of clubs and B is forced to discard. If he discards a heart, Z's eight of diamonds is good; so B is forced to discard a heart.
This "squeeze" or forced discard of both A and B in the same hand is the so-called "double squeeze." All Z now has to do is lead a low heart and Y's three hearts are good for the last three tricks. Note that if Z had discarded the eight of diamonds at trick No. 2, he could not have "squeezed" B at trick

Problem No. 17

Hearts—none	Clubs—J, 10, 6	Diamonds—none	Spades—Q, 7
Hearts—Q, 9, 8	Clubs—none	Diamonds—none	Spades—10, 9
Hearts—J	Clubs—none	Diamonds—K, J, 7	Spades—J

Spades are trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y Z play the hand so that they can win four of the five tricks against any defense? Solution is the next article.

Son of Truman Ames Dies In Montana

The death of Jay H. Ames, 48, son of Truman Ames, Antioch, occurred at his home in Helena, Mont., Thursday.

Mr. Ames was born in Pennsylvania October 14, 1885. He was a cabinet maker and followed his trade at Miles City for four years. He then moved to Helena and to Lincoln, where he resided for a similar period. He removed to Helena some time ago.

He is survived by his widow, Emma P. Ames, and three small children, Truman, Wallace, and Mildred, living in Helena; a brother, Howard Ames, at Waukegan, Ill.; and by his father, Truman Ames, Antioch.

THE SPECTATOR

Halloween in Antioch this year was calm and peaceful to a degree that is almost alarming. Remember way back when people used to say, "When a child is abnormally quiet, he's into mischief"? If there is any truth to this, then the police force better look out for the next six months!

There's no use counting the number of shopping days intervening between now and Christmas. Everybody waits until the last minute anyway, so why attempt to break into any further forms of reform.
